A charitable organization created to support and expand student and post graduate medical educational programs, as well as, to educate the public sector regarding the practice of podiatric medicine.

The Texas Podiatric Medical Foundation is the benevolent arm of the Texas Podiatric Medical Association. The focus is, but not limited to, expansion and support of the medical education of the lower extremity.

This non-profit 501 C3 foundation is supported by the licensed podiatric physicians in Texas, as well as by general physicians - both nationally and internationally.

Texas Podiatric Medical Foundation GOALS...

- Provide a network for institutions, programs and students participating in post-graduate lower extremity education
- Provide grant support to medical residency programs, graduates and students
- Support mission and charitable projects for indigent communities worldwide while promoting lower extremity care and surgical correction to the public

The Texas Podiatric Medical Foundation Needs YOU to make a difference!

Each individual can donate time, money, supplies and/or services to show support of the Texas Podiatric Medical Foundation.

Over 70,000 lower limb amputations occur annually in the USA due to diabetic complications. Thirty percent of adults suffer foot related back pain and seventy percent of the elderly suffer from lower limb infections.

The TPMF tries to "STOP THE PAIN" by :

- Advancing postgraduate curriculum and research to ensure top trained podiatric physicians in the state of Texas.
- Networking podiatric students and post-graduate programs in medical education to allow for better patient access in the medical arena.

- Providing financial support of qualified medical education programs to enable quality training and postgraduate grants.
- Supporting specialty training programs to keep new and existing physicians informed on new technology research.
- Providing public medical education awareness to prevent disease, amputation and illness.
- Providing mission projects for care of the lower extremity care to indigent communities including the Texas-Mexico border, interior Mexico and partnership with Healing the Children International. Hundreds of club foot corrective surgeries have been performed since 2003 at these missions.
